BARBOURVILLE, KY., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1921

ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS A YEAR IN ADVANCE

FATHER AND SON SENTENCED IN SMITH MURDER CASE

On June 11th Chester Smith was shot from his mule and died almost instantly. Saturday of last week John Warren and son Lathe, of near Himyar, received a life sentence and twenty-one years respectively in the penitentiary as punishment for the murder of Mr. Smith.

Sawyer A. Smith argued the case for the Commonwealth. Evidence adduced showed that Chester Smith spanked Lathe Warren for breaking into his home during his absence. This occurred on Friday morning, June 10th. It was also shown that during the afternoon John Warren told several people he was going to kill Chester Smith. On Saturday morning John and Lathe Warren went to Lathe Taylor's and bought a .38 pistol. Saturday afternoon they are alleged to have waylaid Smith at the mouth of Roaring Fork while on his way to the mill where they knew he was going and the shooting began. Smith was shot from his mule and as stated almost instantly killed. It was shown he was unarmed, was in his shirt sleeves and had refused to carry a pistol, saying he would not know how to use it if he had one. Several people working in nearby fields heard Mr. Smith begging not to be killed.

John Warren, who wears a wooden leg, is 47 years of age. Lathe Warren is 16 and will have to go to the House of Reform until he is 21 years of age after which he will go to the penitentiary.

The defense attorneys were R. N. Jarvis and Wm. Messamore.

PROF. HEWES RETURNS

Prof. George C. Hewes and wife are back from the U. of Illinois, Urbana, Ill., where Prof. Hewes did some studies in organic chemistry, also laboratory and library work along the same lines. This college is his alma mater and two of the sons of Prof. and Mrs. Hewes were in attendance this year. One of these, Edwin Butcher Hewes, was one of four who graduated with honors out of a class of 214. While his parents knew he was doing good work, they were not prepared to find their son an honor man. His honor subject was history. He also won a commission in military science, but owing to the fact that he intends to complete his Master's degree next year he did not accept a lieutenancy in the army to which he was entitled.

Another son, George C. Hewes Jr. is taking architecture and is half way thru his course.

Altogether it was a pleasant experience for Prof. and Mrs. Hewes. One incident marred the vacation for them however, Mrs. Hewes being the victim of an accident in which two street cars collided at a switch. Mrs. Hewes was thrown violently forward and struck her chin on the seat in front. Her lip was cut and her teeth were injured so that she will have to have dental work done. Her friends will be glad it was no worse.

MRS. FRANK ROMEO ON TRIAL FOR MURDER OF HUSBAND

On Monday the Commonwealth called the case against Mrs. Frank Romeo, accused of killing her husband, Frank Romeo, and a young girl of about seventeen years of age, of prepossessing appearance, entered the enclosure and took her seat. She looked as tho she still might be a school girl instead of one who had raised a pistol and shot her husband to death.

The Commonwealth, represented by J. B. Snyder and James S. Golden endeavored to prove that Mrs. Romeo was leaving her home, was met by her husband and asked to return and that the girl wife thereupon shot him.

The defense, thru Sawyer Smith contended that Romeo, an Italian about thirty-five years of age, married the girl who was from Clay County, and took her to a box car home near Emanuel where he beat her, drew a long knife on her and threatened to cut her throat and on one occasion actually slashed her dress so it fell from her. It was also contended, that left alone the night preceding the murder, she went to a nearby home and departed the next morning to take a train, that she was met by Romeo, who took her hand bag from her, threw her clothes out on the road and then abused her. According to the defense the wife asked for her handbag and was met by more curses and threats, whereupon Mrs. Romeo drew a gun from her umbrella and fired one shot, which entered at the waistline and came out at the abdomen. Romeo was brought to the Logan Infirmary where he lingered four days before death ensued.

The jury was sent out while the prosecution tried to show that Romeo knew he would die from the effects of the shot and the defense insisted he hoped to live this hope being based on the remark of Dr. Logan to Romeo that he hoped to pull him thru. Dr. Logan testified that he had such a chance if peritonitis had not set in. It was decided to admit only a part of the death-bed statement.

The jury went out on Tuesday at 5 p.m. and returned Wednesday at noon, bringing in a verdict of guilty and assessing a sentence of four years in the Reform School. This is the law in the case of a female under eighteen years of age.

It is said the girl might have been cleared had it not been that she shot her husband in the back.

CAMPING PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Minton chaperoned a number of young people at Dishman Springs over the week end. The party consisted of Miss Roberta Cole and her guests, Miss Mary Agnes Heidrick, Miss Wilma Pigg, of London, Mr. Naumer, of Pineville, Raymond Poynter, of London, and Pat O'Hara.

Mr. and Mrs. Ethan Viall, and daughters Misses Verda and Eloise, Miss Viall, of Chicago, and Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Cole spent Sunday with the campers taking with them lots of good eats.

YOUNG MAN INJURED FALLING FROM TRAIN SATURDAY

A young man whose name is said to be Turner of Everts, fell off the hind end of No. 12 Saturday, the other side of Four Mile. He is said to have been seriously hurt among other injuries received being a broken jaw and arm. The train was going round a curve at the time he fell.

TO THE FARMERS FAMILIES

Earl Mayhew asks that you be kind enough to bring in all exhibits of produce you may have on hand and show them at the School Fair. While you may not get a prize, it can be known what the county is producing and thus make for improvement.

MUSIC CREDITS IN OUR HIGH SCHOOL

It is the custom in all progressive High Schools to give credit for work done in music when it is taught in accordance with conservatory requirements. A course in harmony, history and theory will be offered in connection with the piano work in our High School by Miss Louise Buck which will give the advanced students one half unit for each year's work, making two credits for music when they finish the four year's course. This enables the pupils to present more units for graduation from High School and also to gain credit at any conservatory for work done under private teachers.

FAMILY DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Costellow had the pleasure of entertaining all their grand children and great grand children at a dinner party. Those present were Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Albright, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Davidson, and son Frank, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Talbott and daughters Louanna and Doris, of Indianapolis, Ind. Mayor Chas. G. Black and wife of Hamlin, W. Va., Mayor T. D. Tinsley and son William Granville, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. H. Hayden, Jr., of Corbin, Mr. T. E. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Costellow.

PRETTIEST CHILDREN

The prettiest baby girl, according to the judges, at the Knox County Fair was Freda Churchill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Churchill. We feel sure that Bert Churchill would be one of the last people on earth to deny the good judgment of those who passed on as charming a string of youngsters as has ever graced a fair baby show. We go further and assert that Drew Faulkner is in rapport with the decision that his boy is the boy of boys in these parts. Not only so but we firmly believe that every other parent present was as firmly convinced that his own particular baby is "ni plus ultra" and they are right.

Nature is a parent herself and knows how to put it over.

HAMPTON-MILLER

The marriage of Mr. Claude Miller and Miss Pearl Hampton, took place at Cumberland Gap, that Mecca of lovers, last Saturday. Both young people have many friends here who will wish them every happiness in their married life.

DINNER PARTY

Mayor and Mrs. T. D. Tinsley entertained on Saturday evening at a dinner party, Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Albright, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hopper, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Costellow, Mayor and Mrs. Chas. G. Black, of Hamlin, W. Va., Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Talbott and daughters Louanna and Doris, of Indianapolis, Ind.

SCHOOLS OPENED MONDAY

School opened Monday with talks by Dr. J. S. Locke, W. R. Lay and County Superintendent E. B. Hemphill. Robert W. Cole presided. The attendance at the school including all grades is very satisfactory and the Board feels they have been fortunate in securing a strong faculty. Prof. Caywood, in his opening address on Monday morning, set forth high ideals and a good year is expected. Even now, at the end of the first week, the wheels seem to be running smoothly and teachers and pupils have found themselves.

MEN—LIFT THE BURDEN OF WASHING

C. F. Hillier, of the Union Electric Company, was in town Tuesday. Mr. Hillier is handling a new washer that is a revelation in washing machines. It is electrically driven, has a steel frame copper tub, aluminum wringer and uses a one fourth h. p. electric motor. All gears and working parts are sealed in running grease. The wringer is of the most approved type, having no wood and being constructed of light aluminum.

It is an ideal machine for the large family, washing a multitude of things not only thoroly but quickly. In fact, it is a willing, sturdy worker that will lift the washing strain that breaks the health of so many women.

Sunnysuds, as it is called, may be left standing in the kitchen and not look like the old tubs and wringer and thus the work may be done in the kitchen which is a consideration in cold weather.

Those who may be interested in this washer, which is a remarkable one at a remarkably practical price, should drop Mr. C. F. Hillier a card to 7 Ford Street, Corbin, Ky.

COUNTY NURSES'S REPORT

A total of 170 visits were made during the month many of these being to school children and schools where health talks were given and many children examined.

At the Fair a Health or Red Cross Tent was maintained and on one day twenty five babies were taken care of. Many mothers were shown how to take better care of their children and the Red Cross work was explained to many.

NEW CITY COUNCIL

A new Mayor and City Council will be elected in November. It is understood that Mayor Tinsley will not run again for the office which will be a distinct loss. Citizens should see to it that a man of progressive ideas is elected to the office since Barbourville is steadily on the up grade and a man of narrow outlook might prevent proper development along certain civic lines. The same applies to the councillors, who should be men of vision enough to look ahead and so far as they may, stimulate the growth of our city. It is time our citizens began to look after their own business in the matter of electing men to succeed any of the old council who may not wish to succeed themselves.

In the opinion of the Advocate, the present council has done good work during the past two years. The paving, while it may have worked a temporary hardship in individual cases, is one of the best things that could have been done. Right now it is almost impossible to find a vacant lot in the city and the fact that we have paved streets will tend more and more to bring people here who like the smaller cities and especially those that have such school advantages as are offered in Union College, the Baptist Institute and our High School.

FAREWELL PARTY

On last Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John W. Hughes, the Tuesday Club had a farewell party in honor of Mrs. W. B. Minton, who leaves next week for Maryville, Tenn. Only members of the Club were present. The sport of taking kodak snap shots, which will serve as souvenirs for the guest of honor, was indulged in during the early part of the program.

Mrs. John O. Gross sang two appropriate solos and Mrs. W. H. Buck entertained with some piano solos. Mrs. Minton made a little talk.

The hostess assisted by the hospitality committee served an elaborate luncheon course consisting of salad, iced tea, sandwiches, brick ice cream with cake and mints. The color scheme was pink and green, the Club colors.

Those who are holding building lots would do a good turn to the city by either building homes or selling to those who would build. The city is being held back in its growth by lack of homes for people to live in.

Mrs. R. B. Minton entertained at six o'clock dinner on Wednesday Dr. and Mrs. Wm. Barr Minton and two daughters, Emily and Williamara

MINTON SADDLE HORSES AT THE HOGENVILLE FAIR

Hodgenville is the County Seat of LaRue County, Ky., on a branch of the I. C. R. R. 12 miles from Elizabethtown. LaRue County was at one time not considered one of the best counties in Kentucky but on account of having an up-to-date class of farmers who posted themselves on improving the soil it has come to the front and they have made thin land very productive. Garrett Dezarn, the flour mill man, states there are about 75 dairy farms in the county that are shipping milk and cream. This kind of farming makes for prosperity financially as well as improving the soil, so now large crops of corn and wheat are raised.

The Fair is a community effort, which is very evident by the well equipped grounds and buildings. The cattle barn is 200 feet long and 30 feet wide, with 80 stalls and this was not large enough, every stall being filled with Durham, Polled Angus and Jersey cattle. The Boys and Girls Club Jerseys were quite an attraction and considerable pride was evident when the little girls led their Jersey Heifers into the ring. They all won prizes their stock all being pure bred and registered. The Hog Department was well filled having about 60 pens. The leading breeds were Durocs and Poland Chinas. The Boys Pig Club is a big thing in LaRue County and they are working up a great interest among the young folks in live stock.

Every one attending the Fair can see this for themselves and it is a fine thing for the Fair Co. to encourage.

The Poultry Department was fine the Fair furnishing all coops necessary and a fine building for the display. Vegetables and grain crops were an education to every one and show what came be accomplished by scientific farming and common sense. The Floral Hall showed the community interest in the Fair as the farmers' wives were on hand in large numbers, also the ladies of Hodgenville who took an active part making this department well worth while. Large exhibits of up-to-date farm machinery were on the ground and nearly everything that would interest a wide awake progressive man.

Every exhibit was on the ground by 10 a.m. the first day and not taken away until the last hour of the last day. Mr. Jack Thompson, the live wire of the Fair, stated that every cent of profit of the Fair would be put back into the grounds and larger premiums next year. Mr. Thompson was very careful to see that all exhibitors from a distance received complimentary tickets and their dinners every day in the Fair Company Dining Room. We all extended Mr. Thompson a special vote of thanks for his many courtesies and attentions. All stalls were free and no charge was made for ring entries. The full amount of all premiums was promptly paid to the winners.

The Horse Department has about 50 nice stalls and many fine horses were on hand. The large amphitheatre was filled every day and there were easily over 7,000 people the 2nd day. Our three mares won their share easily, Lucille winning the Grand Champion Saddle stake, being ridden by Edmund B. Miller, of Salvisa, Ky., her former owner. Gladys won third in this stake.

Verda won first for best saddle mare, 4 years old and over. Lucille won first for best harness mare, 4 years and over. Gladys won second for best harness mare 4 years and under, also second for best combined saddle stallion, mare or gelding. All the show rings were well filled the one judge system being used.

This Fair on account of its community interest is one of the best County Fairs in Kentucky. The grounds are owned by the Association and have been used for Fair purposes for about fifteen years. The beautiful grounds have lots of maple shade trees, one half mile track and trotting and pacing races are on schedule every day of the Fair.

The people of Hodgenville do not realize they have suitable grounds for a 9-hole golf course on their Fair grounds, with plenty of hazards. A golf links at Hodgenville would help put the town on the map as Lincoln Farm is only three miles out and having a golf course would make the place of more interest to tourists and prolong the life of some of their best citizens, such as Ex-Congressman Dave Smith, McGill Bros., Dr. Smith, Dr. Thomas, Handley and Kirkpatrick.

Abe Coleman, of Harrodsburg, and E. B. Miller, of Salvisa, were in attendance with their show horses and we are all shipping to Bowling Green this week, and then to the State Fair next week. While attending this Fair I met a number of friends I had not seen for fifteen years or more, and we were all glad to see each other again. They also enjoyed seeing my saddle mares win the ribbons in the hot contests we had.

T. W. MINTON.

BISHOP BURTON WILL BE HERE OCTOBER 16TH

Th editor is in receipt of a letter from Rev. J. J. Clopton, stating that Bishop Burton, of Lexington, will be here Sunday, Oct. 16th. The service will be held in the Presbyterian Church.

EPISCOPAL SERVICE

Rev. J. J. Clopton will hold divine service in the Presbyterian Church Sunday morning, Sept. 18th, at 11 o'clock. This will be the third Sunday. Any and all citizens will be welcome. This is the same service thru which our Anglo-Saxon forefathers for centuries have worshipped God.

COUNTY FAIR A SUCCESS

Jeff T. Moore states that the Knox County Fair was a big success from the standpoint of exhibits, due to an increase in the premiums offered. While the attendance was not as large as usual, he states the races were good and better than usual.

MULE BOOTLEGGER CAPTURED

Kipling says "the mule is but a mule," but Deputy Russ Baker proved Friday that a mule may also be a bootlegger. At any rate, the mule, whose antecedents are unknown to us, but which has strayed from the straight and narrow way, has been found guilty of carrying and transporting the festive moonshine and Judge R. S. Rose will make an order for its sale into hard labor as a result.

A gun was discharged in what is known as "Jackson County Fair Ground" adjoining the Knox County Fair Ground and Deputy Baker went thither to see who the sport might be. He had gone or mixed with the crowd of gentlemen who were busy outpointing each other at the thrilling game of horse trading.

Standing pensively under a tree and wearing that air of sublime innocence which so often masks the face of a sinner, stood a mule. On its back was a sack that had a fruit jar container appearance and Deputy Baker began to investigate with a pocket knife. He was rewarded for having a suspicious nature with a gallon and a half of real mountain dew which sloshed around in the jars when the mule swung at a fly on or near his tail piece.

The bootlegger was brought to town and impounded. Up to the time of going to press the prisoner has made no statement, but has preserved a contemptuous silence except for an occasional derisive bray.

Whether the act of the mule is one of natural depravity or association with others who have led the trusting animal astray, we leave the reader to guess, but ignorance of the law is no excuse and the poor brute will be sold for his sins.

ON HOLY GROUND

Mohammedans Venerate Sanctuary in Jerusalem.

Traditions of Ages and Profound Mystery Surrounding the Famous Dome of Rock.

The Mohammedan sanctuary in Jerusalem on the Mount of Abraham's and David's sacrifices echoes the glories of Solomon's temple that once stood in that locality, writes J. F.
Schellman in Asia Magazine. With its lattice screens of ebony, its brocaded curtains, its stained glass and mosaics in their somewhat faded glory, the dome of the rock stands in the solitude of the sacred precinct like one of those places hewn of a single opal or turquoise we read of in oriental fairy tales.

Approaching it, the Moslem pilgrim has to observe a strict ceremonial. As he enters he puts his right foot forward, begging pardon for his sins and invoking God's mercy. Walking round the rock, he must keep it on his right hand, reversing the process followed when making the circuit of the Kaaba at Mecca. Before proceeding to the cave underneath, he must probe his heart and strive for humility of spirit, uttering the prayer of Solomon: "Oh God, forgive those who have sinned and relieve the injured!"

He firmly believes that the rock is supported by a palm tree rooted in one of the fair rivers of paradise, the tree in the shade of which the beautiful, martyred Asia, wife of Pharaoh, and Miriam, the sister of Moses, will slake the thirst of the Faithful on the day of resurrection.

After paying his respects to the dome of the rock, to its "tongue" (a broken column, slanting to the roof of the cave), to the marks of the Angel Gabriel's fingers and to the sword of Ali, Mahomet's valiant son-in-law, he visits the other shrines of the Holy Enclosure. There, in the heart of Jerusalem, are the dome of the ascent, where the prophet was lifted up when starting on his heavenly journey, and the dome of the chain. The chain that used to hang down from its ceiling was supposed to be possessed of miraculous properties. Whenever a judge had to decide in a difficult case between litigants who supported their conflicting claims by contradictory statements, he transferred his tribunal hither and invited them to touch the links of the chain while repeating their assertions. Then the truth came to light, for the chain could easily be seized by the veracious, but eluded the grasp of the infamous who tried by falsehood to get the best of his opponent.

One day, however, the oracle was baffled by a man accused of having borrowed money without paying it back. Now, he kept this money concealed in a hollow staff which he asked the plaintiff to hold for him while he, too, gripped the chain swearing that the sum he owed had been returned. The bystanders marveled greatly at the chain's failure to unravel the mystery of such clashing testimony, and soon afterward the wonder-working chain disappeared because, tradition says, it began to despair of sustaining its reputation for perspicacity among a population so full of fraudulent resources.

Gems Are Cheap in Tiflis.

If you want to buy a quart of diamonds for a dollar or two, go to Tiflis.
Tiflis is the capital of Georgia, one of the new republics that have risen in the Caucasus on the ruins of the Russian empire. The value of the Georgian ruble is worth hardly anything at all. But the dollar has such abnormal purchasing power in this nation of lost values that it seems less like money than magic. You can get a fine dinner at Tiflis for ten cents, and room rent in the best hotel for $1 a month.

The Bolsheviks have ruined Georgia.
They have killed industry and trade and consequently the value of the native ruble. The swarms of refugees from Russia have sold their most precious possessions to Tiflis merchants for food and clothing, until the stores of the city have become stocked with diamonds and pearls and all kinds of precious things which were paid for perhaps with a plate of beans or a pair of socks.—New York Evening Post.

One Interview in 110 Years.

The Dalai Lama of Lhasa in Tibet has just given an interview to an electrical engineer. This is the first time that a Lama has talked with a European in 110 years. Lhasa is on a plateau, 11,000 feet high which is perhaps desirable as sanitation is non-existent. Tibet seems to want telegraphic communication with the outside world and there are faint signs of an industrial awakening. Mr. Fairley, a telegraph engineer, had an audience with "His Holiness," who proved to be kindly and very inquisitive. He also visited the Tibetan council called the "Council of Shapas."

lowed.—Scientific American.

Grapefruit Has Rival.

Experimental scientists in the Department of Agriculture have successfully produced the tangelo, a cross between the tangerine and the grapefruit. It is said to be more tender than either, and to have all the juicy excellence of the grapefruit without the tendency to be into the face of the spoon manipulator noted when the grapefruit is being eaten.

Increase Sea Safety.

Lifeboat devices, described and illustrated in Popular Mechanics Magazine, are so designed that one man, by turning a crank, can lower a boat with ease. They are now being installed

A Would-Be Auditor.

Well, what did you think of my acting? asked an amateur player of a truthful but diplomatic member of the audience.

"I can say this," replied the spectator frankly, "I have a friend who I am confident would have given $500 to have heard you."

"Who is it?" asked the embryo Booth, highly pleased.
"Well, you wouldn't know him.

President Harding Thoroughly Enjoys "Roughing It" in Mountains With Edison-Ford-Firestone Camping Party

THERE are those who may claim the above picture refutes the popular belief that Thomas A. Edison, the world's foremost inventor, sleeps only four hours a day. But Mr. Edison is only resting, while his companions, President Harding and H. S. Firestone, the tire manufacturer, discuss the morning news. These three men, with Henry Ford, recently concluded a unique camping excursion through the Maryland and West Virginia mountains. It was a genuine "back to nature" trip for the campers, who sought to shun as much as possible the spotlight of publicity which continuously plays upon each of them. The president was obliged to return after a brief outing because of the press of official business, but Mr. Edison, Mr. Firestone and Mr. Ford continued into the heart of the hills. While in camp, the president and other members of the party made their own bunks, assisted in the camp chores, went fishing and followed the usual routine of the tin-can tourist. ### SEEMS JUST LIKE A DIFFERENT MAN

Akron Citizen Expects To Always Give Tanlac The Highest Praise For Restoring His Health.

"Tanlac has helped me so much that I've told all my friends about it, and I expect to always give it the highest praise," said B. F. Faust of 194 Park Ave., Akron, Ohio. "My stomach got out of order three years ago, and I commenced bloating so bad after meals it almost cut off my breath. I had severe pains thru my chest when it seemed I could hardly stand it, and nights I often had smothering spells when it seemed my time had surely come. I often had to get up out of bed and sit up the rest of the night in order to get my breath. I was hardly able to drag around and always felt drowsy and tired."

"But after taking three bottles of Tanlac I was entirely relieved of all that stomach trouble, and was eating everything I wanted without a bit of pain or distress. I went to work every day and had such a fine appetite and felt so well I actually seemed like a different man. I sleep the whole night thru and never have a weak spell. I am only too glad to say a good word for Tanlac."

SOUR STOMACH INDIGESTION

East Nashville, Tenn.—The efficiency of Theford's Black-Draught, the genuine, herb, liver medicine, is vouched for by Mr. W. N. Parsons, a grocer of this city. "It is without doubt the best liver medicine, and I don't believe I could get along without it. I take it for sour stomach, headache, bad liver, indigestion, and all other troubles that are the result of a torpid liver."

"I have known and used it for years, and can and do highly recommend it to every one. I won't go to bed without it in the house. It will do all it claims to do. I can't say enough for it."

Many other men and women throughout the country have found Black-Draught just as Mr. Parsons describes—valuable in regulating the liver to its normal functions, and in cleansing the bowels of impurities.

Theford's Black-Draught liver medicine is the original and only genuine. Accept no imitations or substitutes. Always ask for Theford's.

Uncle Walt's Story
Walt Mason
BEING A SUNBEAM

"WE HEAR and read a great deal about optimism," said the stranger, "and we go around telling our friends not to worry. The advice is good enough, but we don't pause to reflect that optimism is a mental attitude that can be reached only by study and training. What shall we study? I have here, madam, a little book entitled, 'How to Be a Sunbeam,' which answers the question fully and completely. It was written by—"

"I don't care who it was written by, or whether it is indorsed by all the statesmen and prelates in the country," exclaimed Mrs. Curfew. "I don't want to be a sunbeam, experience having taught me that I can get along better and have less trouble and tribulation, when I look as much like a meatax as possible."

"Last evening before I went to bed I was reading a book called 'Sunshine Susan.' It was about a woman who just made up her mind to be happy no matter what happened. Then her husband was brought home with a broken leg, and the two children had a number of measles simultaneously, and the house burned down, and the bank in which she had deposited her savings closed its doors, and in spite of everything she went around singing and dancing."

"If I had thought it over I might have realized that it was too good to be true. No human woman could be gay and happy in the midst of so many calamities. But I was in a sentimental mood, and when I turned out the light and went to bed I thought that I ought to be ashamed of myself for not being like Sunshine Susan, and I made up my mind I would turn over a new leaf first thing in the morning."

"So I came downstairs smiling, and I was singing all the time I was getting breakfast, and when Mr. Curfew came down he said it warmed up his whole being to see me in such a cheerful frame of mind. It reminded him of him of the time when I was sweet seventeen, and as pretty as a red wagon. Then he gradually drifted into a story to the effect that he had a great opportunity to make the finest horse trade of his career. All he needed was $7 in cash to close the transaction, and he would make at least $15 by it."

"He knew I had $7 put away in the clock to buy myself some clothes I need the worst way. I had saved that money, a nickel and a dime at a time, and was looking forward to the time when I would have enough to go shopping and buy myself an outfit good enough for the queen of Sheba."

Mr. Curfew had been trying to borrow my savings for a long time, offering to give me his note as security, and before I read that Sunshine Susan book I always refused him, and nearly snapped his head off doing it. But that morning I was anxious to make everybody happy, so I handed him the money, and he went and made his horse trade and brought home an old crowbar that has been sick ever since, and he spends all his time out at the barn, feeding it pills and powders, and I can't get him to do any of the chores around the place."

"The same morning Mrs. Turpentine heard me singing in the back yard, and she thought it would be a good time to borrow my patent electric washing machine, and came over for that purpose. She had asked for it a dozen times before, but I always told her to go to. Being full of sunshine on that occasion, however, I told her she could have it and welcome, and I've never been able to use it since. The man who sold it to me says it will cost $6 for repairs, so you see what Sunshine Susan did to me."

"No, mister, I don't want any recipe for being a sunbeam, and you can take your book along to Mrs. Turpentine, in the yellow house across the street. She's the champion middle weight pessimist of this neighborhood."
